SHELTER ACTIVITY. A look inside at the activity in the Fallout shelter at Andover High school last weekend where over 70 participants spent 48 hours in a simulation of emergency conditions, conducted by the Civilian Defense department. The test was observed by top state CD officials.

Shelter Experiment Successful

A 48-hour simulation of emergency conditions and living in a fallout shelter was termed a success by Civilian Defense officials last weekend.

The test, which placed over 70 people, most of them young students, was conducted to train fallout shelter managers in case of emergency.

Under the direction of Civil Defense Director Burton Batcheller, the participants were sealed in a partitioned room at the high school from Friday evening to about noon on Sunday.

The group 'survived' on 30 biscuits and rationed water during the 48-hour stay.

They also took part in various experiments such as how to divide candy bars 80 ways. It was finally resolved by placing names in a hat and awarding the bars to the winners, the remaining enjoying sour balls.

Reaction to the experiment was mixed, some feeling they had gained considerable knowledge from the experience.

Others were not completely enthusiastic, one person commenting that she preferred the dangers of nuclear attack, rather than being cooped up for a length of time.

The only town official to participate was...

McQuade Appointed Director Of DPW

Robert McQuade, 36 Gleason St., has been named director of the public works department by Town Manager J. Maynard Austin, with the approval of the selectmen.

McQuade, in this new position, will take over the water and sewer department, succeeding Donald J. Bassett who resigned as of April 1. In addition, he will co-ordinate the seven departments listed under the board of public works category.

McQuade, a registered professional engineer, has been a resident of Andover for several years and familiar with the community, having worked closely with the town on several water and sewer projects as a consulting engineer. He has been employed for several years with Camp, Dresser and McKee, which drew up the town's master plan for water and sewer projects.

He received his bachelor of science degree from the University of Rhode Island and a master's degree from Northeastern University.

A licensed professional engineer, he is a Diplomate of the American Academy of Environmental Engineers.

He worked with engineering firms in Rhode Island and also with Metcalf and Eddy, before joining Camp, Dresser and McKee in 1956.

McQuade also was an instructor at Lowell Technological Institute and served as consulting engineer to the Andover Board of Health.

He is a veteran of World War II and the Korean conflict.

He is the father of four children.

No salary has been established for the position as yet and the starting date has not been set, according to Austin.

The post was mentioned prior to town meeting, when the manager asked for a co-ordinator. The

Establishing Libraries

(A TOWNSMAN News Feature)

What is the Andover Library Project?

It is Andover women helping to start school libraries, and serve as volunteer librarians, in two East Boston schools which never had school libraries before.

It is needing more Andover volunteers to open a third library in the Guild School on Ashe Street in East Boston. The Guild School "library" -- in the foyer of the auditorium -- has bookshelves and catalogued books. It lacks only enough volunteers to give the Guild children their very first school library of pleasure and reference books.

Absolutely no experience is needed, according to Mrs. Hart Leavitt, 195 South Main St., chairman of the Andover group. She points out that only two of the present Andover Library Project have had previous library training.

Library volunteering requires only one morning a week, plus an interest in getting good reading books together with school children who need to learn that reading can be a pleasure, as well as a homework assignment.

Portal to portal time required, from Andover to East Boston schools and back again, usually is 8:30 a.m. to 1:45 p.m. In other words, mothers of Andover school-children can be at home when their own children leave for school, and back again well before they return.

Use of a car is a help, but not necessary. Since Andover women volunteer in pairs, transportation can usually be arranged.

The Andover Library Project is an arm of the Volunteers for Boston Schools, which has initiated and staffed 40 libraries in Boston schools, and has 150 more to go. The Volunteers for Boston Schools Library Project depends on suburban groups like the Andover Library Project to provide volunteers to process books, staff the libraries, and train school mothers

School Schedules Conference

Officials of Bryant-McIntosh business school in Lawrence will hold a public meeting on May 14 at the former Parker Manor to discuss their plans for use of the building.

The announcement was made Wednesday and followed a meeting of area residents with the selectmen Monday night protesting the proposed leasing of the manor as a dormitory.

A petition containing over 80 names was presented by Dr. and Mrs. Edmund Mellucci and stated the residents were opposed to any change in the character of the Parker House Manor.

Frank J. McArdle, spokesman for the group, said the residents were concerned about the manor becoming a college dormitory, based on recent student activities.

McArdle said "dormitories have not been enhanced by student

PRESENTATION. Mrs. Beatrice M. O'Brien is presented a certificate from the U.S. Post Office department honoring her on her retirement after 27 years of postal service. Postmaster Frank J. Mooney made the presentation at a testimonial banquet Tuesday night.

Mrs. O'Brien To Retire

Mrs. Beatrice O'Brien, 184 North Main St., a member of the postal service here for 27 years, will retire as of May 31.

Mrs. O'Brien is serving as superintendent of the Ballardvale station.

She was honored by her fellow employees Tuesday night at a testimonial at the Merrimack Valley Motor Inn in North Andover.

During her tenure she served as postmaster of the Ballardvale post office. She succeeded her late husband, Richard E. O'Brien in that post.

She served as postmaster for eight years, until the station began street delivery, at which time it became a branch of the Andover post office.

Mrs. O'Brien was then named superintendent of the station.

During her career she was presented with the U.S. Post Office Superior Accomplishment award.

She has two children, James, of Lynnfield and Joan, wife of Robert Yancy of Norwood. There are three grandchildren.

Tuesday night she was presented with a certificate and gifts from her associates by Postmaster Frank J. Mooney.

At Meeting

Two elementary school principals were among 6,000 principals attending a meeting of the National Association of Elementary School Principals in Philadelphia, Pa. this past week.

Earl Simon of the Bancroft school and Edward Regan, Shaw-sheen school, were at the session which studied and discussed changes, problems and opportunities confronting the American elementary school.

Joint Hospital Drive Passes Half-Way Mark

"The Joint Hospital Building Fund has passed the 50 percent mark," according to General Chairman Milton J. Meyers. His report was given at the biweekly meeting of division chairmen. The campaign goal is $3,000,000, which is to help finance new construction at Bon Secours and Lawrence General Hospitals.

"There have been 1,747 contributors to date who have given a total of $1,559,630," according to Dr. Meyers. "We are tremendously pleased with the contributions from individuals and corporations of the area."

Reports given at the meeting held at Bon Secours Hospital last week, showed the Hospital employees from the two hospitals to be leading in percentage of goal raised at 129 percent. Nearly 1,400 employees have contributed $166,228. "An outstanding accomplishment," commented Dr. Meyers.

The Trustees Division reported 61 gifts for $223,516 or 75 percent of their goal. Trustee Chairman D. K. Webster, Jr., indicated confidence that his division will meet its goal.

The Medical Staff reported 35 percent of goal with 48 gifts for $140,270. "Although a little behind schedule we are assured that they will reach their goal of $400,000. The giving level of the doctors is most encouraging," Doctor Meyers added.

Industry has reached 70 percent of their goal of $475,000 and is expected to "go over the top" by early June, the campaign leadership announced. Of 122 corporate prospects in the Greater Lawrence Area, 45 gifts have been reported for a total of $329,300, and 67 are yet to be reported.

Banks are reported to be giving up to expectation with four banks pledging $40,600. It is anticipated by Irving Rogers, Jr., campaign vice chairman and bank division chairman, that the 14 banks in the area will reach a goal of over $150,000 to the expansion program.

Commerce Chairman George B. Stern and Special Gifts Chairman B. Allen Rowland reported that their divisions are now being organized and expect to have their "kick-offs" about mid-May.

The new construction costs for the modernization and expansion of the hospitals is expected to exceed $10 million. The hospital leaders are hopeful that all the residents of Lawrence, Methuen, Andover, North Andover and Salem, N.H., will give to the campaign.

The "public phase" of the campaign will be conducted after the advance gift divisions have completed their solicitation.

Winter Term Sets Record

A report of the Andover YMCA winter term program, just released by Executive Director Richard P. Cate, indicates that the well received 10 week program ending late in March tallied several new all-time records for the local agency.

Statistics for the term, with 1969 comparative figures in parentheses, follow: number of programs conducted 123 (97), class sessions 1,284 (1,207), individual enrollment 1,837 (1,563), total attendance 17,174 (14,344).

A detailed report will be provided the Andover YMCA board of directors at its next monthly meeting on May 12. At the close of March 2,836 men, women, boys and girls were formally affiliated with the Andover "Y".

Minister To Head Program

The Andover Citizens Concerned About Drug Abuse has secured the service of Rev. J. Everett Eodge, South Church minister, to head up activities aiming toward a community program on drug abuse.

A number of interested adults also have joined the group planning for next Monday's community information meeting, "Drug Abuse in Andover, 1970," at East Junior High's Memorial Auditorium at 8 p.m.

Speakers will be Dr. James O'Shea and Jim Alonzi of Reality, Inc. Rev. Mr. Eodge will moderate the meeting, and organize follow-up activities.

The planning group hopes that Monday's meeting will focus enough community concern to generate task forces which can examine parent and youth responsibilities and resolution of this problem.

Rev. Mr. Eodge stressed at a planning meeting that the thrust of a sensitive intelligent community program would not be to impose a program on young people; rather it must be to become a supportive, "enabling" program, which helps young people in various ways to meet the problems that drugs in the community present.

Possibilities raised in the groups planning sessions as to various positive steps the community might wish to take included: more recreational facilities for all Andover young people, a recreational drop-in center for this summer, construction of a town swimming pool, expanding and extending drug education programs in both junior highs and the upper elementary grades before this summer, organizing that great variable -- community-wide parental involvement and support, establishment of a hot-line telephone service for drug users wishing help, and/or a confrontations center in Andover for drug addicts. It is the group's hope that town officials responsible for these areas of concern will attend the meeting, as well as citizens wishing to ascertain the existence of any drug problem situation in Andover.

One planning group member's analysis: "It isn't just swallowing us up, but a drug situation is here and it is real. Awareness, and a sensitive comprehensive community program can meet it."

The following organizations are encouraging their membership to attend the May 4 meeting; most of them already represented on the planning group.

South Congregational Church, Christ Episcopal Church, St. Augustine's Church, St. Robert Bellarmine, St. Augustine's Guild, several elementary school PTA's, Friends of East Junior High, Andover Education Association, Andover Society, League of Women Voters, and Shawsheen Women's Club. Other churches and social groups will be reached during the remainder of this week.

St. Germain Board Member

James St. Germain, professor of political science at Merrimack College, was elected to the executive board of the New England Political Science Association at that association's annual meeting at Dartmouth College, Hanover, N.H. Assistant Professor Mary Marsch Grow of Andover a member of Merrimack College's political science department, recently returned from a conference on international law and society held at the Waldorf Astoria, in New York.

Lecture Series To End

On Sunday evening, May 3, Mary Reed Newland will lecture at the Christian Formation Center, River Road. Her topic will be the ever-interesting "Youth and Religion -- What Happens?"

Mary Reed Newland was born in the middle-West, grew up and was educated in Long Island public schools, studied in New York art schools, worked in merchandising and advertising before her marriage to William J. Newland. She now makes her home in Monson, with her husband and seven children. Mrs. Newland has published several books regarding religion and the family and has also illustrated two books on sex education. She currently is at work on a book to be published in 1970 entitled, Youth -- What Happened?

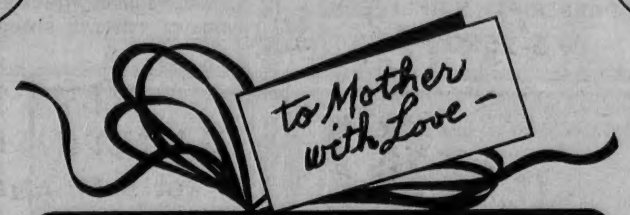

Mrs. Newland lectures frequently all over the country, has recently given a five-day retreat to the Christian Brothers in California, clergy conferences to priests in the diocese of Rochester and speaks regularly for colleges, seminaries, parishes, schools and ecumenical groups. She has appeared frequently on television and radio. She is the recipient of three honorary degrees, from St. Joseph's College, West Hartford, St. Mary's College, Notre Dame and Stonehill College, North Easton.

This lecture will take place in the Auditorium at the Christian Formation Center, on Sunday, May 3, at 8 p.m. and will conclude the Spring Christian Life Lecture Series. Tickets may be obtained at the door on the evening of the lecture.

Visits Set For Four Dates

Gerald Silverman, chairman of the Red Cross Blood Program, urges residents of Andover to choose a date and donate at one of the four bloodmobiles this month, and thus make a life-saving gift as the critical accident period of summer approaches.

A unit will be at the Voke School, River Road, May 4 and 12 from 11 - 2:45; and at the South Church, May 20, 12:45 - 6:30 and May 21 1:45 - 7:30.

Persons in good health, weighing over 110 pounds and between the ages of 18 through 66 are eligible to give. It is desirable to have an appointment but walk-ins will be accepted.

The collection of blood is truly a community responsibility. With medical research finding new uses for blood derivatives each year and sickness and emergencies taking an unpredictable toll of blood reserves, the supply must constantly be replenished. Don't wait, call the Andover Red Cross now, and help.

THE POLYESTER/FIBERGLASS
MOBIL PREMIER BELTED TIRE.

What happens when you put two fiberglass belts in one of the best tires on the road? The best gets even better.

Up to 40,000 miles or more. Or to put it another way, a conservative 40% more mileage than the original equipment tires you've known.

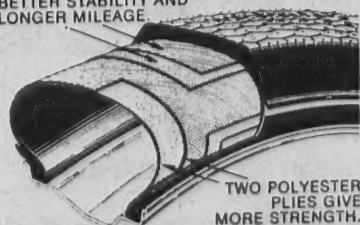

Better traction. The fiberglass belts keep tread flat on the ground.

Greater handling ease. On any surface. At any speed. Because the belts keep the tread grooves open to grab.

Extra protection against cuts and bruises. Fiberglass. It's tough.

The fact is, the Polyester/Fiberglass Mobil Premier Belted Tire is so superior, you can't team it up with an ordinary tire. You have to buy at least a pair at a time. But you'll be glad you did when you start belting out the mileage.

TWO FIBERGLASS BELTS HOLD TREAD FLAT. TREAD GROOVES OPEN FOR BETTER STABILITY AND LONGER MILEAGE.

TWO POLYESTER PLIES GIVE MORE STRENGTH.

Armenian School Graduation

Students and teachers of the Armenian School in Andover will hold a Parents' Day program on May 17 at St. Gregory's Armenian Apostolic Church in North Andover from 3 to 5 p.m.

Certificates will be awarded to all students, and the program will include songs, recitations, skits and dancing by the students, and refreshments for all. Parents and all interested friends are invited, and a documentary film will be shown about Camp Haiastan, the Armenian Youth Federation camp in Franklin.

Mrs. Vahey Sohegian, points out that this graduation of the Armenian School falls on the 60th anniversary of the Armenian Relief Society, a volunteer organization of Armenian-American women now seeking funds to help establish an everyday accredited Armenian School in Greater Boston.

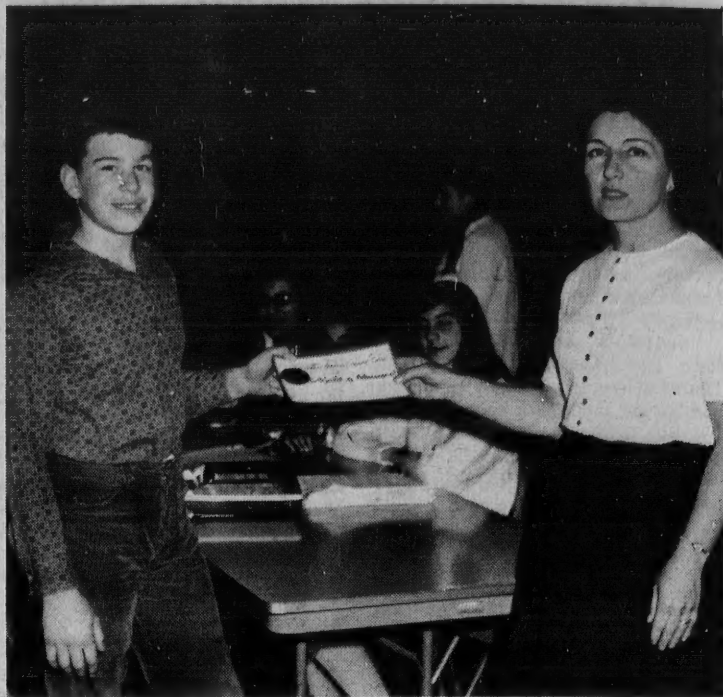

Annual Garden Club Meeting

The annual meeting of The Andover Garden Club will be held May 5 at the Andover Country Club.

The business meeting will be at 10:45 a.m. followed by the program, and an Oriental luncheon will be served at 1 p.m. Mrs. Suteko Stockwell, who is president, of Ikenobo Society of Boston will give a demonstration of Japanese Flower Arrangements in New England Homes.

A member of the Horticulture Committee will give the monthly mini talk, on the shrub of the month, Calycanthas Floridus, (Sweet Shrub).

A special date to remember is May 14, A Standard Placement Flower Show, at the home of Mrs. Ralph Hill, Forbes Lane.

RECEIVES CERTIFICATE. Randy H. Dagley receives a certificate of advancement from Mrs. Varkes Sohegian at the Armenian school conducted by St. Gregory's church.

Shakespeare Company To Perform At Merrimack

The Cultural Affairs Committee of Merrimack College will sponsor two performances by the National Shakespeare Company on Friday, May 1, in the Collegiate Auditorium. The two performances are a part of the Committee's Cultural Series.

The first performance, at 3:30 p.m., will be Moliere's "School for Wives," based on the theme that love conquers all, that nature has decreed that the heart shall know itself and recognize the heart destined for it. A subsidiary theme is that a young woman has a right to a decent education, fitting to her intelligence and curiosities, and that the effort to keep her in ignorance is blamable and self-defeating.

The second performance will be Shakespeare's "The Tempest" at 8:30 p.m. This is a story of magic and monsters, set on an enchanted island in a distant sea. The story concerns what happened in three hours on that island, "when beauty and non-sense and innocence and terror clash for a time and then quiet into a final peace under the power of a great magician; to experience it is to enter into a wonderful world which is not quite like any other that Shakespeare ever made."

The National Shakespeare Company is a highly professional company and has emerged as one of the country's leading classical touring groups, bringing classical theatre to hundreds of college and university audiences across the country and in Canada.

Philip Meister, well-known in New York for his directorial successes off-Broadway, is artistic director for the company. Elaine Sulka is managing director, Albert Shoemann is general manager, Vincent Wagner is tour director, and Richard Gibson is production stage manager. William Pitkin designed the unique portable set, and Judith Haugan designed costumes and scenery.

"School for Wives" features Philip Hanson, Jeanne Rostaing, and Scott Mulhern and is directed by Mario Siletti.

"The Tempest" features Philip Hanson and is directed by James Karr.

General admission for each play is $2.00. General admission for both plays is $3.00. For mail orders address Prof. John Murphy, Box 893, Merrimack College, North Andover, Mass., 01845. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and make checks payable to Merrimack College.

On Committees

Two Andover women have been named to committees for the 43rd annual meeting of the Garden Club Federation of Massachusetts, Inc., which will be held Wednesday, May 6, at the Marriott Motor Hotel, Newton.

Mrs. Ralph H. Hill of the Andover Garden club will be in charge of correspondence and Mrs. Byron R. Cleveland, of the Andover and Lawrence Garden clubs will be memorial chairman.

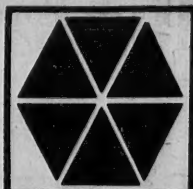

The Andover Baptist church voted in 1924 to use the entire building for church and vestry purposes. A section of the lower floor had been used for several years as a store.

REAL ESTATE CORNER

by Marjorie C. Kidd

Confused about kitchens?

When shopping for a new house, it's easy to become confused, because there seem to be as many different types of kitchens as there are houses.

But actually, there are only four basic types. Everything on one wall; everything on opposite walls; everything on adjacent walls (L-shaped); and, everything on three walls (U-shaped).

Your present kitchen falls into one of these. Do you find it convenient to use? Then you'll probably want another one in the same pattern. If you find it inconvenient, you'll probably be shopping for one of the other types.

Be sure to tell your Realtor what your absolute requirements are -- but you may change your mind when you see a house with other dream features! That's part of the fun of new house buying.

He is assigned at Bien Hoa with the 9th Special Operations Squadron, a unit of the Pacific Air Forces. The lieutenant, a 1963 graduate of Andover High School, received his B.A. degree in 1967 from Parsons College, Fairfield, Iowa. He was commissioned upon completion of Officer Training School at Lackland AFB, Tex. Lieutenant Colonel S. H. Reeves, commander of the 9th, makes the presentation.

Historical Tour Scheduled

The Ladies of Merrimack planned the program.

But scores of men have already evidenced interest in participating in "A Day in Historic North Andover" scheduled for May 2 by the Ladies of Merrimack College in cooperation with the North Andover Historical Society and Museum.

Thomas W. Leavitt, director of the North Andover Historical Society, who has been special advisor in planning the full schedule of events, notes that the day offers several features to interest men from this area.

Little-known facts about "Old North Andover Homes, - Interiors and Exteriors" will be presented by a husband-and-wife team of history buffs, Cary and Barbara Carson, at the morning coffee at the McQuade Library on the college campus at 9:45.

Unique constructions will be highlighted during the tour of the Parson Barnard House, the Johnson Cottage and the Stevens Coolidge House. Some of the earliest forms of colonial manufacture and rudimentary tool-making will be explained by experts at the North Andover Historical Society and Merrimack Valley Textile Museum.

Masculine interest in architecture will find many unusual satisfactions in the unique refinements of the Stevens Collidge mansion atop Osgood Hill, one of the sites for the luncheon at noon.

Roland B. Hammond's lecture on "Opportunities for the Novice Collector" will also have significance for men interested in getting full value for their money.

But, while the program has much to attract males, the feminine interests will not be neglected. Women will delight in the unusual features of the historic homes, the textile processes, and particularly in "The Rise and Fall of the Shawl", a unique fashion show slated for the Merrimack College Library at 2 p.m.

Coordinated by Mrs. Merle Frank and under the chairmanship of Mrs. James Forma, the show will feature Merrimack College coeds modeling shawls dating back to the 17th Century. Each of the models will have researched the period of the shawls she will wear.

Thomas W. Leavitt will do the commentary for this portion of the program.

Then the women will have a choice of three sites for tea, the Parson Barnard House, the Historical Society Museum, or the Stevens Coolidge House.

One of the special features of the tea will be the refreshments. Recipes gleaned from an ancient heirloom cookbook, "Colonial Cakes and Cookies," have been selected by the president of the Ladies of Merrimack, Mrs. Albert P. Manzi, and the chairman of the Day, Mrs. William Callahan of Andover. The Merrimack College kitchen is experimenting with the recipes to bring them up to date while retaining their authenticity.

Among the pourers for the tea will be Mrs. William Endicott whose husband is vice-president of the New England Society for the Preservation of Antiquities, Mrs. C. Lloyd Thomas, who resides on Barnard land, whose husband is a direct descendant of Barnard & Osgood, founders of North Andover and also of Samuel Phillips Jr., founder of Phillips Academy. Also Mr. Abbott Stevens of the Stevens family, so closely identified with North Andover's earliest history and some of the areas most noteworthy philanthropies.

Those who can keep secrets are playing a kind of confidence game.

Rev. Richard F. Wilcox

Pastoral Counsellor To Speak

On Friday, May 1 at 12:30 women of the various churches of Andover will congregate at South Church for the annual May Fellowship Day luncheon sponsored by the Church Women United.

The luncheon will give the ladies an opportunity to consider simultaneously with groups across the country the subject: "Dissolve the Difference Between."

In this day of the "gaps" and the fear, anger, bewilderment and heartache engendered by our lack of understanding of our fellow man, Church Women United is pleased to bring to any woman in the area the views of a speaker whose life is dedicated to helping others. This man is Rev. Richard F. Wilcox who is now pastor of the Middleton Congregational Church and founder and director of the counseling center there -- now re-named "Pastoral Counseling Services of Region IV." A truly ecumenical center, it has the blessing of professionals in the area of mental health -- both public and private.

Reservations for the luncheon may be made by contacting Mrs. Warren Oldaker. Baby-sitting services will be available.

Judge Lappin To Address Guild Sunday

Judge Francis L. Lappin, associate justice of the Superior Court of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, will speak on the use and pushing of drugs in Massachusetts when he addresses the annual Communion Breakfast of the St. Francis Seminary Guild on Sunday, May 3.

The breakfast will follow the annual Communion Mass that will be celebrated in the chapel of St. Francis Seraphic Seminary, River Road, at 9:30 a.m. Judge Lappin will be the only speaker. In discussing his topic, the judge explained that the law sees every user of drugs as a potential future pusher. Rehabilitation methods now in use, he feels, fail to achieve their goal fully.

The Seminary Guild is an association of men in the professions, business and industry who promote financial assistance for St. Francis Seraphic Seminary in its work of preparing young men for priesthood in the Franciscan Order. Conducting a drive for membership expansion, the officers are encouraging members who plan to attend to invite guests for the occasion to listen to the justice's important talk.

Judge Lappin is a resident of Dracut. He studied in the public schools of Lowell, was graduated from the School of Law, Northeastern University, in 1937 and has practiced general law in Lowell ever since. He has served for 12 years on the Town Council of Dracut, and was a member of the Massachusetts Senate from 1959-60. In 1961 and 1962 he was a

Census Takers Make Visits

Henry A. Higgott, district manager of the Census District

Office in Andover reports that census takers are visiting homes from which no questionnaires were mailed back, as well as those from which questionnaires were returned incompletely filled out.

The Manager asks householders to welcome these census takers when they call and to give them full cooperation in getting the required census information.

Most of the census takers are women. Each wears a red, white, and blue badge which is her official credential. It bears her signature and certifies that she is authorized to perform the duties of a Census Enumerator, and has sworn to keep confidential all census information given her.

Earth Day Activities In Andover

Now that Earth Day is over, what will become of the environmental pollution issue?

Is it dead, gasping for breath, or still alive and kicking? The Curious Citizen finds the issue alive and well, in Andover, in schools and churches, and sometimes in supermarkets, a week after Earth Day.

Earth Day in Andover was an impressive success as a one-day affair, as students from all schools joined to give the town its best cleanup in years. Many stayed on the job until the last scrap of paper was swept up, leaving the Municipal Parking lot cleaner than they had found it.

It was an impressive cooperative affair, symbolized at the end of the day by the cooperative efforts of the town rubbish truck, and the Phillips Academy's "rubbish-scrunching" packloader to cart the remains of the trash collection to the dump.

A policeman on duty that day remarked that "There should be before and after pictures of what those kids did to some of the back alleys of this town."

A citizen said, "It won't last. People will go right on littering."

But the Curious Citizen wonders, "Is the clean-up all there is to it?"

The main issues of Earth Day was environmental awareness and education, according to students and teachers involved, the Andover Village Improvement Society and the Memorial Hall Library, which proposes to be the town's permanent center for environmental education.

Earth Day is over, but Andover seems to be in the midst of an intense environmental education campaign.

Abbot Academy called off classes on Earth Day for an all-school assembly on the environmental crisis. This was followed by discussion groups to determine how individual students, and their families, can act responsibly in the environmental crisis. Abbot also has established required reading on the issue so that Abbot students can better inform themselves.

Phillips Academy, whose ecology action leaders are responsible for much of the research to authenticate and prepare fact sheets and petitions for Earth Day, held teach-ins in many classes Wednesday. In a practical vein, PA offered the services of its truck to help cart away the mountain of litter at the end of the afternoon. Speakers, seminars and films are scheduled in the weeks ahead at Phillips.

Andover High school began a formidable environmental education series this Monday.

Mrs. Waters Kellogg, of AVIS and the Audubon Society, and Robert McQuade of the consulting engineers, Camp, Dresser and McKee, spoke to students Monday on water pollution.

Philip Hanst, of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, spoke Tuesday on air pollution.

Yesterday, the population problem and air pollution were featured, with speakers from Planned Parenthood in Boston, and a state commissioner on air pollution on hand.

An AVCO official speaks today on water pollution and Friday, students will see a slide show photographed and put together by Ecology Action students; who are finishing the accompanying script today. Photographs were taken around Andover, near the airport, and along Route 1, and various nearby examples of aesthetic, air water pollution.

The high school also has scheduled a number of movies, on ecological issues, both general and technical.

A student-made environmental crisis film will be ready by next week, and interested townspeople are invited to get in touch with the high school to see this student production.

Ecology leaders from Andover's three secondary schools were interviewed on a local radio show Sunday, and student ecology leaders will appear on a panel and show their movie, for the Greater Lawrence Council of Churches in May.

operate in presenting a month of speakers on the environmental crisis, while Christ Church is in the midst of a month long environmental education series in its Sunday morning forums, and has appointed a permanent ecology committee. A long banner decorated with flowers and "all things bright and beautiful" hangs down from the church's tower, to symbolize commitment to Christian stewardship of the environment.

Next on the agenda: a clean-up of the Shawsheen River, scheduled for Sunday, May 17. The Andover Village Improvement Society and the students' Joint Ecological Action Committee seek volunteer help for this major project, which has been rescheduled from Saturday, May 16 to Sunday, May 17, to give everyone a chance for a good Sunday outing, cleaning Andover's river.

Perhaps Earth Day was more a beginning than a climax.

The participants were given certificates at the end of the test by State CD Director Alan Zenowitz.

During the entire simulation, the group was observed from the outside by monitors. State and federal CD officials were present during the 48-hour period.

The group had their first substantial meal on Sunday when they were treated to beef stew in the school cafeteria.

CD Sector Director Daniel J. Shine was also on hand for the experiment.

The Andover Co-Op supplied the group with their meal Sunday afternoon after leaving the shelter. The store supplied the meat, potatoes and all the fixings for the beef stew, along with bread and beverages.

Stern To Head Committee

George B. Stern, local insurance man, was named to the campaign committee of the Bon Secours-Lawrence General Joint Hospital Building Fund. He will head the commerce division which is now being formed.

According to Campaign Chairman, Dr. Milton J. Meyers, "George Stern will give vigorous leadership to this phase of the campaign. The leaders of industry are responding magnificently. And I'm sure all members of the business community will give generously to the expansion program of our two hospitals."

"More than 1,700 people have given to the campaign so far, and everyone will have the chance to give before the summer is over."

"The hospital employees set the pace when they reached 129 percent of their goal. Other parts of the hospital family -- trustees, medical staff and auxiliaries -- are also giving strong support."

Gifts to the campaign are divided equally between the two hospitals to help pay for their $10 million expansion program.

Lawrence General Hospital will add a modern 7-story wing to house its new maternity-nursery unit, obstetrical section and 94 additional beds for medical and surgical patients.

Bon Secours' new 4-story wing will provide for an enlarged emergency department, surgical suite and intensive and cardiac care units.

Stern is Vice President of E. L. Wilkinson Insurance Agency in Lawrence. He is an agent for the Union Mutual Life Insurance Company and a partner and trustee of the Commerce Realty Trust.

He is President-Elect of the Greater Lawrence Rotary Club. He was recently elected a director of the Greater Lawrence Chamber of Commerce and is a former president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. He is also a director of the Greater Lawrence Rehabilitation Clinic.

Stern is married to the former Wendy Wilkinson. They live at 85 Hillside Road, North Andover, with their daughters Penelope Jane and Amy Lee.

Ermer On Scuba Team At Brown

Students at Brown University and Pembroke College who enjoy scuba diving as a hobby have organized the Brown University Dolphins to promote interest in the sport on campus.

The club requires that all members demonstrate ability in skin or scuba diving before they can obtain certification. The Dolphins sponsor regular diving outings and courses, along with films and lectures of interest to club members.

Members of the Brown University Dolphins include: Curtis Arthur Ermer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Ermer of 240 Highland Road.

A graduate of the Phillips Academy, he is a sophomore and a candidate for the bachelor of science in Electrical Engineering.

As a freshman, he was involved with the freshman track team, varsity rifle team, and intramural hockey. He served as an advisor for the computer laboratories at Brown and was named to the Dean's list in both semesters.

Ford's back-up suspension makes bumps feel like ramps.

Harvard, Yale Accept 33 P.A. Grads

Harvard and Yale each has accepted 33 Phillips Academy seniors for admission next fall as freshmen, according to the latest figures from the office of college placement.

The senior class, which numbers 265, submitted a total of 1,200 secondary school reports to Robert P. Hulburd, director of college placement, to be completed and sent to 166 colleges. That represented many overlaps in applications, Mr. Hulburd said, but he estimated that about 60 percent of those applying were accepted by the colleges of first choice.

The eight Ivy League colleges accepted a total of 162 Phillips seniors, although Stanford University, on the West Coast, ranked second to Harvard and Yale with 24 acceptances.

The other Ivy League acceptances included Brown with 22, University of Pennsylvania and Princeton with 21 each, Cornell 14, Dartmouth 10 and Columbia eight.

The Little Three showed considerable selectivity with Wesleyan accepting nine, Williams five and Amherst five.

Lawrence Co-Op Will Open Branch

The Lawrence Cooperative Bank will open a branch office at 4 Main St. on or about June 15, according to William E. Moriarty, president.

Extensive renovations will be made to both the interior and exterior of the building, in order to offer the public attractive and modern facilities in which to transact banking business. The new branch will offer all services that are presently available at the Main Office at 300 Essex St., Lawrence.

Moriarty said the reason for establishing the branch here was to make it more convenient for its many Andover customers to transact their business.

The Lawrence Cooperative Bank was established in 1888.

Back Drug Program

The petition urging government funding for the Joint Hospitals' Drug Control Program received youthful endorsement Monday.

Members of the Superintendent's Student Advisory Council voted at the regular monthly meeting to circulate the petition separately in the Andover schools for student signatures, to express student concern with the drug problem.

Student members will be discussing petition plans with their building principals early next week.

The petition already in circulation for adult signatures, originated from the planning group of adults concerned with drug abuse who have scheduled the drug abuse meeting Monday evening at East Junior High. Police Chief David Nicoll has agreed to have the police department the collection point for petitions.

Lowell State Alumni Meets

The Lowell State College Alumni Association will hold its 70th annual meeting and reunion on Saturday, May 2, on the College Campus, with alumni president, Queena Flomp presiding.

A change of pace has been injected into the program for the day's activities. A luncheon-meeting will begin at 12:30 p.m. with College President Daniel H. O'Leary joining the Alumni. Then those in attendance will be entertained by a Hypnosis Consultant who will give a special demonstration. This year two college chairs will be awarded to two alumni present at the reunion.

Members of the class of 1920 are special guests of the association in commemoration of their Golden Anniversary. Amongst these special celebrants are: Christina Sullivan, Nora Reardon, Gertrude Torrey, Josephine Seymour, Julia O'Leary, Mrs. Stanley Pickles, Anna Harvey, Helen Collins, and Mrs. Augustine Donovan of Greater Lawrence.

Edward R. Lawson

Appointed Assistant Dean At Upsala

Appointment of Assistant Professor Edward Lawson, formerly of Andover, as assistant dean has been made at Upsala College, East Orange, N.J.

Professor Lawson, who teaches English, will be responsible for monitoring special programs that are not offered under the aegis of a single department or the division of General Studies. He also will be responsible for the coordination and supervision of academic counseling, continuing in his present capacity of director of academic counseling.

A graduate of Boston University where he received his master's degree in 1960, Professor Lawson also attended Harvard University in the summer of 1964. Prior to coming to Upsala in July of 1965, he was an assistant professor of English at Nason College in Springvale, Maine, as instructor at the Lowell Technological Institute in Lowell, and at the Lasell Junior College in Auburndale. Last year he was appointed to the Board of Advisors of the American Institute of Foreign Study for an indefinite term.

Professor Lawson, who now resides at 33 Renshaw Ave., East Orange, N.J., was born in Andover, and was graduated from Punchar High School. His mother, Elizabeth, resides in Andover and his late father, Edward, was superintendent of public works until his retirement.

He is married to the former Rosemary M. Jones and they have two sons, Frederick S., nine, and Kevin C., six.

To Attend AIB

Janet Sosnowski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sosnowski, 25 Blood Road, has been accepted for the fall semester at Andover Institute of Business, 90 Main St., where she will pursue a two-year program in the Executive Secretarial Course.

P.A. Graduate To Return For Concert

Eugene Indjic, a Phillips Academy graduate, will return to the campus on Sunday, May 3, for an 8:30 p.m. piano concert in George Washington Hall.

Indjic, born in Yugoslavia, came to this country at an early age. Now 22, he gave his first concert at the age of 11.

He won scholarships to both Phillips, Andover and Harvard University, and graduated with honors from both.

He has appeared with the Boston Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Eric Leinsdorf and with the Boston Pops, under Arthur Fiedler.

He has toured Scandinavia and Spain and is returning to the latter for concerts this spring.

Tickets for the concert are available in advance at George Washington Hall or on the evening of the performance.

An adult is a person who has ceased to grow vertically, but not horizontally. If you have a serious weight problem, your physician can prescribe a proper diet, says the Massachusetts Medical Society.

LIBRARY

to join them.

Since the Andover Library Project began a year and a half ago, it has initiated two highly successful school libraries in East Boston, one in the John T. Cheverus School, and one at the Bradley School. The Cheverus Library is staffed entirely by Andover women, while at the Bradley, school mothers there have entirely taken over the volunteer staffing, freeing Andover women to begin processing books at the Guild School nearby, the last East Boston elementary school without a library.

Women who would be interested in being volunteers next fall, or helping in any way, are urged to get in touch with Mrs. Leavitt, or call any of the present volunteers. If enough are willing to "get their feet wet" this spring, Mrs. Leavitt said, the Guild School Library could be opened now, and run two or three days a week through May. Two women who feel they can give only a day every other week could be paired, to cover a given day a week.

Finally, the women involved emphasize, library volunteering is unquestionably worthwhile, and a pleasure.

For information, call Mrs. Leavitt or Mrs. Stanley Potter, Bancroft Road, Mrs. Alan Blackmer, Central Street, Mrs. William Warntz, Argilla Road, Mrs. R. Milton Cole, Highland Road, Mrs. George West, Morton Street, Mrs. Anthony Grassi, Arundel Street, Mrs. Frank Eccles, Highland Road, Mrs. James Adriance, School Street, Mrs. John Kimball, Prospect Road, Mrs. Crayton Bedford, Abbot Street.

Gillette Company Wins Award

The Gillette Company's Toiletries Division plant in Andover today was named a winner in the 36th annual "Top Ten Plants" Awards.

The announcement of the winning plants was made in New York by Herbert F. Lund, editor-in-chief of Modern Manufacturing, a publication for manufacturing plant operators and engineers, which sponsors the awards.

Representatives of the 10 winning plants will receive original watercolor paintings of their facilities and citations at an awards banquet May 20 in New York.

The $11 million Gillette plant in Andover houses all manufacturing operations of the Toiletries Division and does warehousing and shipping for this and other Gillette divisions in New England.

The facility, located on Burr Road in Andover, faces Interstate 93. The plant occupies 13 acres of a 152-acre site, and consists of a manufacturing area, warehouses for raw materials and finished goods, an office area and a cafeteria. Roads and parking areas on the property cover approximately 16 acres.

The plant consists of a structural steel frame building with concrete block and brick facing. The manufacturing area is air conditioned and equipped with acoustical ceiling. Warehouses are 30 feet high, and the manufacturing area, 20 feet high. The plant was designed by Anderson-Nichols Co., Boston, and the general contractor was the Vappi Co., Cambridge.

In announcing the "Top Ten," Lund said the winners this year, as in previous years, were selected for overall excellence in planning and construction. He said the program was started in 1953 to increase the productivity and efficiency of plants by stimulating the construction of new facilities with more favorable working environments.

The plants are nominated by architects, engineers, builders, state and regional chambers of commerce, development commissions, banks, railroads, utilities and the readers of Modern Manufacturing. This year's winners were selected from nearly 1,500 plants completed in 1969.

Gillette is the world's largest manufacturer of aerosol deodorants and shaving creams. Manufactured in the Andover facility are Right Guard deodorant and anti-perspirant, Foamy shaving cream, The Hot One shaving cream, Soft and Dri anti-perspirant and other toiletries products.

Other New England plants in the Top Ten are Honeywell, Inc., Billerica, and Miles Laboratories, Inc., New Haven, Conn.

McQUADE

selectmen approved unanimously, Austin said at the time, that a coordinator could handle the DPW and report to him, rather than the seven individual department heads thus relieving the manager to perform other necessary tasks.

The Finance Committee at the time rejected the proposal.

Then, Supt. Bassett announced his resignation.

FinCom officials felt that possibly the replacement for the water-sewer department head could work into the post of coordinator.

Austin told the selectmen Monday that he had talked with the Finance Committee about the appointment of McQuade and they were agreeable to his appointment as director of the department.

The manager also said he had checked with Town Counsel Fredric S. O'Brien and that he had said the position does not require civil service status.

American League

Results This Week

Tigers 6, Yankees 0
White Sox 4, Indians 0

By Rick Han

The Andover American League kicked off season this past week with the Tigers blanking the Indians on opening day.

The White Sox blanked the Indians, 4-1, in a game played on Monday evening.

The defending champion Red Sox, who won second place last year, lost their seasons this week as their games were postponed by rain.

Kurt Anderson, young right-hander, was the star on opening day. He hit shutout and struck out three batters to pace the team to triumph.

Bob Hannon sparked an offensive attack, connecting in three trips to long triple. Danny 2-for-2 at the plate, double, while brother Pointe also banged for the winner.

Losing Yankee Doherty fanned eight. Hoelzel's fifth inning lone safety off Anderson.

Chris Crampton, three-hitter and whizzer, led the White Sox to triumph.

Dave Mirisola, a stickler for the winning of base hits, while Belted out a key single.

Losing hurler M also pitched a fine game, getting just three hits out of seven men. D cracked a solid double, the lone safety off Anderson's biggest hit.

Mark Hamilton Brownlie were defensive in the White Sox infield. Scheinfein contributed defensive plays for the Sox.

The American League games at the diamond in Ballard action beginning at 7:00 p.m. will be held Monday (several Saturday slated) until the mid-May season.

American League
Results This Week
Tigers 6, Yankees 0
White Sox 4, Indians 1

By Rick Harrison

The Andover American Little League kicked off its 1970 season this past weekend, with the Tigers blanking the Yankees 6-0 on opening day.

The White Sox also dumped the Indians, 4-1, in another contest played on Monday evening.

The defending champion Twins, and the Red Sox, who finished in second place last year, also opened their seasons this week. However, their games were played after TOWNSMAN presstime.

Kurt Anderson, a fire-balling young right-hander, was the hero on opening day. Kurt hurled a one-hit shutout and struck out 14 batters to pace the Tigers to their triumph.

Bob Hannon sparked the Tigers' offensive attack, collecting three hits in three trips, including a long triple. Danny LaPointe was 2-for-2 at the plate, including a double, while brother Brian LaPointe also banged out a two-bagger for the winners.

Losing Yankee hurler Jay Doherty fanned eight batters, while Hoelzel's fifth inning single was the lone safety off Anderson.

Chris Crampton spun a nifty three-hitter and whiffed eight batters to lead the White Sox to their triumph.

Dave Mirisola was the big sticker for the winners with a pair of base hits, while Brian Flannery belted out a key single for the Sox.

Losing hurler Mark LaLonde also pitched a fine game, surrendering just three hits while striking out seven men. Dave Packard cracked a solid double for the Indians' biggest hit.

Mark Hamilton and Timmy Brownlie were defensive standouts in the White Sox infield, while Mike Scheinfein contributed some fine defensive plays for the Indians.

The American League plays all its games at the South School diamond in Ballardvale, with all action beginning at 6 p.m. Games will be held Monday-Friday (with several Saturday games also slated) until the middle of June. Managers in the league this year include: Charlie Conlon, Twins; Jim Nicolosi, White Sox; Maury LaPointe, Tigers; Frank Monette, Red Sox; and Ed LaFleur, Yankees.

Due to the Tuesday noon deadline of the TOWNSMAN, league results to be published will include weekly games from Monday to the following Monday.

American Minors

Results through Monday, April 27 show four teams tied for first place with 2-0 records. Excellent defenses of the Twins, which limited the opposition to 7 runs in two games, and the Bruins, which limited the opposition to 9 runs in two games, were major factors in their victories. Standings are:

Athletics	2-0
Bruins	2-0
Patriots	2-0
Twins	2-0
Orioles	1-1
Senators	1-1
Tigers	1-1
White Sox	1-1
Angels	0-2
Indians	0-2
Red Sox	0-2
Yankees	0-2

Horse Club To Compete

Members of the Andover Foots and Saddles 4-H Horse Club will compete in the Annual Essex County 4-H Horse Show on Saturday, May 2 at the Essex Agricultural and Technical Institute in Haverhill.

All entrants will compete in the morning Fitting and Showing classes, in which contestants are judged on the condition, cleanliness and grooming of their mounts, and on their skill at presenting them to the judges.

The afternoon classes will be divided into a Hunter Division, on the outside course, and Western and English classes to be shown in the ring.

Clift Wins Third Letter In Hockey

Amherst College senior William Clift of Andover has recently been awarded his third varsity letter in hockey. At the beginning of the season, Clift was moved from forward to defense when the team found itself short of blueliners. "By the end of the season," commented Coach Ben McCabe, "he was one of our better defensemen and a consistent starting lineman."

Over the course of the season Clift notched 3 goals and three assists for a total of six points. As captain of this year's squad, Clift was rated by both coach and teammates as an outstanding leader. He kept team spirit high during a disappointing 3-13 season for the Lord Jeffs, including two heartbreaking losses to Holy Cross (4-5) and UConn (6-8). He was constantly called upon to pull together a young, inexperienced team that included only four seniors.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Clift, Jr., of Chapel Ave., Clift is a 1966 graduate of Phillips Andover Academy. He was a member of the Phillips Society and earned three varsity hockey letters plus similar honors in football and lacrosse. At Amherst, Clift captained the freshman hockey and lacrosse squads and started on last year's Little Three championship lacrosse team. His fraternity is Chi Psi.

Andover Girls Lead Swim Team

Andover girls scored high in the YWCA National Swim Meet Championships in Ohio.

Joyce Milligan placed first in the 400 yard Individual Medley and third in both the 200 yard Individual Medley and 100 yard Butterfly.

Claudia Cronin was second in the 1650 yard freestyle, sixth in the 200 yard freestyle and seventh in the 500 yard freestyle.

Claudia, Joyce and teammate Kathie White were in the 400 yard freestyle relay that took a second place and they also swam on the 400 medley relay which took eighth place. Claudia and Joyce also swam in the 800 yard freestyle relay which captured a fifth place.

Their efforts were outstanding in helping the Lawrence YWCA to win a third place out of 30 teams in the National Championships held in Toledo, Ohio, April 24, 25 and 26 during National YWCA week. White Plains, N.Y. was first with Toledo, Ohio second.

Chance favors the prepared mind.

Editorial Comment

We're Victims

Andover seems to be a prime target for the legislature when it comes to redistricting procedures.

The latest apparent move, unless Gov. Francis W. Sargent vetoes the proposal, is to align Andover in the State Senatorial district which includes Lawrence and Methuen.

This would remove Sen. James P. Rurak from serving Andover and would put the town in a territory currently served by Sen. William X. Wall of Lawrence.

It would appear that his legislative colleagues are attempting to "pay" Sen. Rurak for his affirmative stand on the cut in the size of the legislature.

It further appears that Andover seems to be a good place to carve up when redistricting comes around.

Within recent years, the Great and General Court, decided to carve up the representative district by placing parts of the town in with Andover and other parts in with South Lawrence and Tower Hill.

The town was once served by three representatives who served Andover, Methuen, North Andover and a section of Lawrence.

The communities, particularly Andover and North Andover, seem particularly well aligned. The redistricting left North Andover with a representative serving that town, along with two precincts in Andover.

Redistricting of the senate will place Andover in with Lawrence and Methuen, while North Andover will be represented by someone else.

It does not seem logical to the average layman, but, no doubt, to the political masterminds, there is a reason.

Sen. Rurak has served the community well, and while a Democrat, he has commanded a representative vote in this Republican community during his six terms.

We regret once again being the subject of political whims on Beacon Hill.

We much prefer representation at the state level on an equal basis and not subject to politicians' fancy.

Charter Exam

Selectman Sidney P. White this week asked Town Manager J. Maynard Austin to examine Andover's town manager charter and see if he would recommend any changes.

White has habitually sought a re-examination of the charter since his return to the board some time ago. He was defeated for a return to office in the initial year of the town manager charter.

The manager system in Andover is now over ten years in operation.

It has seemed to operate properly.

But, possibly the time has come to examine the charter and see if some areas need to be improved or changed.

It is not outside the realm of possibility that some portions could be examined and changed, which can only be done by a town meeting vote.

This new system has worked, although it has still remained in controversy during the decade it has been in operation.

An examination by a professional administrator, at his convenience, as White has suggested, can certainly do no harm.

Good Example

So often the youth of the country and the area are criticized, that it is encouraging to be able to give praise to the younger generation now and then.

Last week, during the earth day observance, many youngsters participated and worked hard to provide a cleaner Andover and to focus attention on one of the nation's major problems — pollution.

These are the exemplary youth, for whom the headlines seldom screech their accomplishments.

Too often it is the rebellious minority which commands attention.

These young people last week worked diligently to clean up areas of the community and remind us all of the need to take proper steps to curb pollution.

There was another young group actively participating in community affairs this past week. The several high school, college and nursing school students who participated in the Civil Defense Fallout Shelter simulation.

They sacrificed the better part of a weekend to participate in the program. For some it proved enjoyable, to others it was not the best of experiences. But they did participate.

Which all proves, one might presume, that not all youths are rebellious, and, frankly, for the most part the majority are exemplary.

Heartening

The response to the program dealing with drug abuse locally, is heartening.

A meeting this past week of many concerned parents planning a May 4 meeting on the problem was encouraging.

It certainly appears clearly evident that there is concern among the parents in the community about the potential dangers here.

We hope the interest continues and amplifies as the meetings progress during the coming month.

Off The Top
Of The Desk

We were skimming through the edition of the TOWNSMAN of a year ago today and noticed in this particular column that the state Department of Public Works was examining the cost of repairing Elm Street.

The section was from Washington Avenue to Wilson's corner in North Andover, which is the state portion of the roadway.

At the time, it appeared the state would be making some very necessary repairs to the surface.

Here it is a year later and DPW authorities must be still examining the possibilities since the roadway hasn't changed, with the exception of several filled potholes.

The state legislature certainly has gone all out during the current session.

First, the august body refused to cut the size of the house on a close vote.

Next, they decided to tell the nation that Massachusetts boys would not fight in an undeclared war.

Their most recent accomplishment was to establish cranberry juice as the state's official beverage.

We hope the solons don't get "bogged" down in their work before the session ends.

Forsythia bushes sprouted forth brightly this week and along with the extension of daylight made for brighter surroundings.

The grass is greener and the trees are budding, with magnolias just about to burst upon the scene.

It's all very attractive if you can see it through the smoke from roadside leaf and debris burning.

We are fully cognizant of the necessity of grooming the yard and have become necessarily tolerant of the whirling motors of a variety of lawn mowers.

There is one complaint, however, and it is prevalent.

It's the guy who gets up and starts the mower at an early hour Sunday morning. Sometimes its Saturday, which is somewhat tolerable, even though it is a day off, but the Sunday morning grooming is really disturbing to many.

There is little doubt of the appeal hockey has to people in this area.

No doubt it has been spurred on by the Bruins conquests of recent date.

The games, which have been televised over a Boston channel all season, continued to hold on to high ratings this past weekend, outdrawing the Red Sox telecast Sunday afternoon.

A Boston newspaper columnist received a commentary on why an Englishman set a record in winning the Boston Marathon a week ago.

Of course there has been considerable talk about the irony of an Englishman winning in Boston on Patriot's Day.

The columnist, however, received a message stating that the main reason was that he was being chased by an Irishman who happened to finish second in the race.

The Mass. division of fisheries and game reports that anglers certainly were out in good force during the early days of the fishing season.

It is reported that there is still a considerable quantity of trout in stocked streams and ponds, throughout the state.

We noticed a number of sportsmen wading in the Shawheen in the Ballardvale section this past weekend, apparently with considerable luck.

with even traces of smoke visible Sunday morning. I do not know where the fault or responsibility lies, but I feel this was an outrage and an insult. We cannot just keep talking about improving our environment — sooner or later we are really going to have to start doing something! A big thank you to all who did actively participate in Earth Day activities.

What Our Readers Say

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN

As a concerned citizen of Andover I wish to make known my great disapproval of some action that took place within the town limits on Thursday, April 23 and continued until Saturday, April 25.

The day after Earth Day, which was so admirably promoted by our young people, the air was filled with thick black smoke at the Raytheon plant site at routes 93 and 133. I passed by around noon time and at 9 p.m. I could still see five or more fires, and so on

Merrimack Corps Works
With Poor In Appalachia

While college students around the country have been making the news through protesting and demonstrating, Merrimack College students have been quietly protesting and demonstrating on their own. But theirs are not the typical protests.

Merrimack Corps, a group of concerned students, have been working to protest the condition of a large segment of America's population and to demonstrate that something can be done to help the poor in Appalachia.

At a meeting on Thursday, April 16, members of Merrimack met to discuss the experiences of the 45 students who spent their Easter vacations working in Kentucky and Missouri and to plan fund-raising projects for the summer and fall. Another discussion meeting was held April 26.

Fourteen Merrimack members spent Easter week in Nevada, Missouri, working with 130 college students from Massachusetts, New York, and Pennsylvania on Project 1970, a community service program sponsored by the sisters of St. Francis Academy in Nevada. Projection 1970 is a program designed to bring out personal qualities of leadership in the participants while they work at St. Francis and in the community. Their activities ranged from collecting pop bottles to raise money for the Day Care Center to transplanting young pine trees which will eventually be sold to raise money to reimburse the sisters for the money they have put into the project. The volunteers cleared brush, worked on a new chapel, built a baseball diamond for the community and did odd jobs in the town. They helped with an Easter egg hunt for the children and also volunteered their time at the Day Care Center, the school for the handicapped, and at a state hospital.

The Nevada project was not all work, though. The students spent a lot of time getting to know one another, and in the process, learned a little more about themselves and people in general.

Ten members of Merrimack worked under Rev. Ralph Belting at the Christian Appalachian Project based in Berea, Kentucky. These students joined other college volunteers in Berea, Mt. Vernon, and McKee, working mostly on preparations for the extensive summer programs sponsored by C.A.P. Some girls worked in a thrift store, ironing, sorting, and selling the clothing which has been donated to the project. Other students worked before Easter preparing the church and sacristy for the Easter services. Some painted, scrubbed, and refinished floors, walls, and woodwork. A few were selected to cook for the group. The boys worked on maintenance, clearing land, working on a spillway, blazing a trail, and building stone walls.

Morning prayers and evening Mass were a part of the daily routine of the volunteers, as was picking up the trailers where they lived. Evenings were spent getting together for charades, going to the movies, or just chatting and relaxing.

Work In Homes

The volunteers in Floyd County, Kentucky had a different experience, because their work was much more closely involved with the people in their homes. Twenty-one Merrimack students worked under Bro. Matthew Burns, F.C. in the communities around Martin, Ky. St. Vincent's Mission was their home base, but each day groups of workers went to homes in different "Hollows" within a 25-mile radius of the mission. Except for three students from New York and the two permanent volunteers in Martin, the Merrimack group worked alone. They participated in the mission's home improvement, home visitation, and food distribution programs. Students soon developed specialties like wallpapering, sheet-rocking, roofing, hanging doors, painting, building stairs, or finishing interiors of rooms. Groups of three or four students went to each home where Bro. Matt had been asked for assistance and worked with the family to do the necessary repairs with materials furnished by the mission.

In addition to doing their share of the repair work, the girls alternated kitchen detail and also prepared the church for Holy Week services.

The Floyd County volunteers also brought back their hopes that Merrimack and the Merrimack Valley Community will continue to lend their support to a project that the group would like to "adopt." Most of the students had the opportunity during their stay to visit the small mining town of David, Ky., where Bro. Matthew hopes to relocate and expand his programs. Plans call for an expanded program of academics and athletics for youngsters from the outlying communities in the hollows as well as renovation of abandoned homes in the town for eventual relocation of low income families from outlying districts to the low rent housing in the town of David. The volunteers hope to continue contributions to the David project and to undertake several fund-raising activities in the coming year to continue supporting this program.

Ferris - Landry

Miss Susan A. Landry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Landry, 8 Dufton Road, became the bride of Daniel F. Ferris, III in St. Augustine's Church on April 11.

Mr. Ferris is the son of Mrs. Virginia Ferris, 26 Maple Ave., and the late Daniel F. Ferris, Jr.

Mr. Landry gave his daughter in marriage, and Rev. Joseph F. Gill, O.S.A., officiated. The church was decorated with bouquets of marguerite daisies for the 11 a.m. ceremony.

The bride wore a Milady gown of silk organza and Venice lace, with a Victorian neckline and full bishop sleeves. The gown was adorned with maize vertical satin ribbon about the A-line silhouette and the cuffs.

She carried a simple hand bouquet of white marguerite daisies with maize ribbon streamers.

The bride was preceded down the aisle by five attendants, their gowns identical except for color. Each wore a Murray Hampshire original sheath gown with mandarin neckline and bishop sleeves trimmed in white Venice lace. Their Camelot headpieces, with elbow length veils of English illusion, matched their gowns, and they carried simple hand bouquets of white marguerite daisies with ribbon streamers matching their gowns.

Miss Cathy Ferris of Andover was maid of honor, and wore an orchid gown. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Barbara Trainor of Methuen, in apricot, Miss Patricia Valentine of Andover in aqua, and Miss Jacqueline Landry, sister of the bride, in summer pink. Miss Coleen Bousquet of Woonsocket, R.I., cousin of the bride, was flower girl, in a lemon yellow gown, carrying a basket of white marguerite daisies with yellow streamers.

Mr. Ferris was attended by his cousin Thomas Trainor, as best man. Serving as ushers were James Landry, the bride's brother, Peter Timmons of North Andover, and Steven Misenti and Patrick Lenfest of Andover. Ring bearer was Thomas Ferris, of Lawrence, a cousin of the bridegroom.

At a wedding reception in the 400 Lounge in Methuen, the mother of the bride received in a light blue coat and dress ensemble with matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a mint green coat and dress ensemble with white accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferris left after the reception for a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, N.Y.

The former Miss Landry is a graduate of Andover High School, and is employed by Smart and Flagg Insurance Agency, in Andover.

Mr. Ferris is a graduate of Andover High School, who has completed service with the United States Navy, and is employed by Gillette Toiletries Co.

They will make their home at 61 Mystic St., Methuen.

West Theme For Fair At Abbot

"Wild, Wild West" is the theme. The event is the annual Abbot Bazaar, benefiting Abbot's scholarship fund, to be held this year on May 9 from 1 to 4 p.m. on the campus of Abbot Academy in Andover.

The spirit of the Old West will be brought back by the many different booths and events. There will be plenty for young and old cowboys alike. You can ride on a pony, play games, race turtles, and even saunter on over to the saloon for a quick drink or two (non-alcoholic, of course). Parents can have their own fun shopping for flowers, baked goods, and odds and ends. All they have to do is send their children over to the jailhouse for an efficient job of babysitting. And of course, everybody will have a great time at the auction!

Admission prices will be 50¢ for adults, 30¢ for students, and 20¢ for children. The West is really wild. Come on over and find out for yourself.

Manpower requirements in professional and technical occupations will be about half again as high in 1980 as in 1968, according to Department of Labor projections.

Tom Skinner To Speak At Meeting

The Christian Women's Club of Andover presents Tom Skinner, of Tom Skinner Crusades, at their annual Guest Night Dinner on Saturday, May 9, at 7 p.m. at the Sheraton Rolling Green Motor Inn, Lowell St.

Unique on the national scene is Tom Skinner, a 28 year old Negro raised in the Harlem area of New York City. At the age of 12, he joined a gang of teenagers called the Harlem Lords. After a few weeks of experience in the gang, he deposed the leader and ruled the group of 130 boys for two years. By day he was the son of a pastor, high in his school class; by night he travelled with the gang.

Through a radio broadcast his life was changed, and he left the gang. Today he speaks before small groups, or crowds in large auditoriums, on radio or TV, and through the printed page, bringing words of sanity to a confused and frightened nation. He believes the only answer to the problems of society in general, and the ghetto in particular, is for each individual to experience a change of heart. He gives the real and sensible solution to the race problem - not from the government point of view, or the segregationist or integrationist, but from a man who is "Black and Free" - the title of his newly published, relevant book.

The public is invited to this dinner. Reservations must be received not later than Friday, May 1. For tickets contact Mrs. Webster Woodworth, 310 North Main St., or Mrs. Willard Perkins, 102 Dana Road, Reading.

Violet Show

Mrs. Elanche Strumpfman of Andover is a member of the committee planning the 15th annual African Violet Show sponsored by the North Shore African Violet Society which will be held in the auditorium of the North Shore Shopping Center in Peabody on May 8 and 9.

There will be classes for specimen plants, from doubles to single blossoms, miniatures (6") and semi-miniatures (8"), sports, seedlings, supremes, variegates, and Gesneriads. For those members with a flair for the artistic, there will be classes for "Decorative" and "Unusual" container plantings, also arrangements and "artistic design" classes. Arrangements use cut violet blossoms while artistic design use violet plants as the focal point.

"Sweethearts", "Bridal Shower" and "Brides Trousseau" are the themes for the arrangement classes. "The Wedding", "Honeymoon" and "Great Expectations" are the themes for the Artistic Design classes.

The show is free and is open to the general public, from 9:30 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. on Friday, May 8 and from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. on Saturday, May 9. Three workshops will be given over the two day show. These will benefit visitors who wish to learn more about violet culture. Supplies and small plants will be available also.

P.A., Abbot Studying Idea Of Combined Studies

The Trustees of Phillips Academy have voted to undertake a study in depth of the needs and possibilities of the combined education of young men and women, with emphasis on the next decade.

The study specifically will be done in collaboration with appropriate committees of Abbot Academy, a school for young women adjacent to the Phillips campus. The two schools already have engaged in some exchanges of students in elective courses.

A resolution instructing the Educational Policy Committee to undertake the study said the results could be either "positive or negative," concerning coordinate education or coeducation at the two schools. Coordinate education concerns exchanges of students in limited areas as has been done.

John M. Kemper, headmaster of Phillips Academy, said that the study had the approval of the faculty. The trustees reached their decision on the campus over the weekend during a joint meeting with the Alumni Council.

A sub committee of three members of the Educational Policy Committee will represent the trustees. Mr. Kemper will appoint another committee made up of faculty and students.

Donald A. Gordon, headmaster of Abbot and a Phillips alumnus, took part, with other Abbot faculty and student representatives in the deliberations at Phillips.

The involvement of Abbot in the study is in keeping with an analysis of a Steering Committee of the Phillips faculty which concluded that "the real choice lay between enrolling girls at Phillips Academy and developing a coordinate program."

Abbot Academy was invited to join in an examination of the possibilities of coordinate education. The program was delayed for a year because of a change of administration at Abbot with the appointment of Mr. Gordon as headmaster in 1967. Since then cross-enrollment has been agreed on in art, music and religion "and in other courses beyond the level of minimum diploma requirements."

This year, 50 Abbot students are taking courses at Phillips and 20 Phillips students are in Abbot courses.

Mr. Kemper told the trustees and alumni council members that among the "obvious limitations to further cross enrollment is that each school has its own idea of a core curriculum." There were others, including the question of numbers, Mr. Kemper said. Phillips has about 850 students and Abbot about 250. He invited both schools to join in the discussion.

The trustees' resolution said, in part, "that the educational policy committee undertake, with the assistance of the headmaster and such faculty members and students he designates, a complete in-depth study of the needs and possibilities of a future course, whether positive or negative, of either coordinate education or coeducation at Phillips Academy, and in so doing, it conduct such studies in collaboration with an appropriate committee of Abbot Academy."

Public Service Recommended

Rep. William S. Moorhead, Jr., Democrat of Pennsylvania, told students of Phillips Academy, Andover, Thursday, April 23, that they had an obligation to devote part of their time to public service.

Mr. Moorhead, a graduate of Phillips in 1941, visited the campus to receive the Claude M. Fuess award for his own "distinguished contribution to public service." The award, a bronze medal, was presented by John M. Kemper, headmaster, at a school assembly.

The award was created by alumni in memory of Dr. Fuess, who was headmaster of Phillips from 1933 to 1948. It goes to Andover graduates.

In an address to the assembly, Mr. Moorhead said that it was possible to derive a sense of personal satisfaction from public service. But he cautioned that that occasionally required "suffering foils and bores gladly."

The Pennsylvania Congressman told the students not to be disheartened about the failure of college supporters of Senator Eugene J. McCarthy, Democrat of Pennsylvania, to elect him President in 1968.

"Politicians can't ignore 6 million college students," said Mr. Moorhead, "and so long as you don't expect instant results, politics can add up to making things work."

Mr. Moorhead, a graduate of Yale in 1944 and of the Harvard law school in 1949, following destroyer service with the Navy in World War II, has been in the House of Representatives since 1958.

He was largely responsible for the Arts and Humanities Bill calling for annual grants to non-political and non-governmental programs. He also headed a House sub committee on housing that drafted the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968. As a member of the House Government Operations Committee, Mr. Moorhead has been a constant critic of Pentagon spending, particularly in the area of overspending in "doubtful" weaponry hardware.

Miss Niziak In Weekend Program

Gail E. Niziak, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Niziak of Hidden Road, will take part in a gymkhana to be presented by the Riding Club of Goucher College on Saturday, May 2, on the college campus in Towson, Md. The program is one of several events planned for the annual Parents' Weekend.

A graduate of Abbot Academy, Miss Niziak is a junior at Goucher, where she is majoring in English.

We Invite You To Cool It . . .
at Compugraphic!

Compugraphic, the fastest growing company in the area, invites you to come to work in their brand new air-conditioned facilities on Concord St. or on Industrial Way in Wilmington. We are involved in the assembly and manufacture of unique computer photo typesetting systems. Our fantastic growth, combined with many internal promotions has created immediate needs for permanent full-time trainees in wiring and soldering, printed circuit card assembly, plating and in many other areas. Now that the warm weather is coming, why not work where you can cool it-in air-conditioned comfort and with high-paying salaries. You'll earn while you learn and receive good benefits, too.

SPECIAL INTERVIEWS

Now, you can apply for a Compugraphic job at either Industrial Way (Exit 26 off Route 93) or at 66 Concord St. (Exit 27 off Route 93)-whichever is easier for you. No waiting. You will be interviewed immediately, at either location, Mon.-Fri., 9 A.M.-5 P.M. No appointment necessary.

If you would like us to send you information about Compugraphic, call Pam Mueller or Sandra Johnson at 944-7806, or at our Concord St. Office, 658-6262.

actions." noting not only activities of Boston and other student areas, but problems Bryant-McIntosh has had in Lawrence where students are housed in the Bradford Apartments.

He submitted a group of clippings noting the various events which had taken place at the Lawrence "dormitory."

The spokesman said the group was prepared to take whatever action necessary to protect the area, even to the point of calling for a special town meeting to have the area rezoned.

Chairman Robert A. Watters of the selectmen had explained that the town, under present laws, could not prevent the college from leasing the building as a dormitory, since it is zoned for business use.

Joseph Vinciguera of 9 Williams St., a justice of the peace in New Hampshire, spoke at length about student conduct and the dangers of allowing the building to be used as a dormitory, referring to some of the young people as "termites," and "cancerous," and "we don't want that element here."

Other matters brought up included that of parking, which the residents felt would become a problem in the area.

Atty. Domenic Terranova said he would ask Building Inspector Arthur Peatman to take the request for a permit under advisement when presented by the college.

Selectman Roger W. Collins said he was opposed to the plan and urged that the board make a thorough examination of the proposal.

Selectman Sidney P. White also felt that the town should examine all legal avenues before the building is allowed to become a dormitory.

Founders' Day To Be May 6 At Bancroft

The sixth annual Founders' Day will be observed at the Bancroft School on Wednesday, May 6, at 7 p.m.

The annual event is scheduled to mark the foundation of the community over 300 years ago and also take cognizance of the service of municipal employees.

During the event a municipal employee is designated as employee of the year.

All municipal employees with particular years of service are awarded pins.

Persons having served on municipal boards or committees, are also expressed appreciation for their service and achievement.

A reception follows the presentations.

The event is open to the general public.
